TechMix Equine

Electrolytes for High Performance Horses.

“Dehydration is a problem in Arizona year-round, especially in the hot summer months when temperatures are 115 degrees during the day,” says Al Kuenzli, owner and trainer at Kuenzli Reining Horses in Scottsdale, AZ. Together with his wife Tina, a NRHA and AQHA Judge, Kuenzli is an avid user of many TechMix hydration products including Equine BlueLite® Powder, Equine BlueLite® Pellets and Equine BlueLite® Jel.

“I decided to use the Equine BlueLite Pellets for daily hydration maintenance,” says Kuenzli. “I feed all the horses the Equine BlueLite Pellets, even the yearlings that are not being ridden.” With the proprietary blend of energy metabolites and electrolytes, Equine BlueLite Pellets open cells, allowing horses to absorb and utilize more water. “Since feeding the Equine BlueLite Pellets everyday, I haven’t experienced dehydration problems with any of my horses,” says Kuenzli.

“Muscle function improved and endurance was improved beyond my expectations for all the horses in training.”

“Even though I have been using Equine BlueLite Pellets as a daily maintenance program, I was still concerned that some horses in heavy training may need additional hydration. To help boost hydration in these horses, I also topdress Equine BlueLite Powder on their feed in the evening,” says Kuenzli. “There is great improvement in trainability, muscle tone, soreness and appearance after feeding Equine BlueLite. Now that I have been using Equine BlueLite and have seen the difference when hydrating my horses properly – I will always use the Equine BlueLite products on a daily basis with my horses.”

“Being a professional horse trainer, show schedules are very demanding and trailer hauls are very long for the horses,” says Kuenzli. “It is extremely important that the horses arrive to the event in top condition and ready to compete.” Equine BlueLite Jel helps establish and maintain optimum digestive pH for quick energy, electrolyte and vitamin utilization. “Equine BlueLite Jel is given to every horse prior to the long haul as an insurance policy,” says Kuenzli. “It is the best insurance policy I have ever purchased!”

“The TechMix Equine BlueLite line has helped my horses tremendously,” says Kuenzli. “My horses attitudes have improved and they are more lively and energetic.”
